

Thankyou Releases New Gluten Free Muesli (That actually tastes good!)

Melbourne, Australia. September 2015. Social enterprise Thankyou has changed the game with its new Gluten Free Muesli with Dates & Toasted Coconut (that actually tastes good).

Unlike some gluten free foods, it doesn't just rely on fillers and fluff. It's loaded with other good stuff: naturally-sweet dates, toasted coconut, roasted (and perfectly crunchy) cashew nuts, almonds, healthy sunflower seeds, linseeds, pepitas and chia seeds.

Its benefits go far beyond taste, with this life-changing muesli joining the rest of the Thankyou food family to fund food programs globally in Kenya and Cambodia, and locally at The Salvation Army's Hamodava Café in Melbourne's CBD.

Thankyou's Chief Taste Officer and MasterChef AllStar winner, Callum Hann, worked with the Thankyou team to create the new muesli that focuses on health as well as taste.

"We knew our customers were bored with the typical gluten free options out there, so we decided to change the game and make a gluten free muesli that actually tastes good, a product that both gluten lovers and leavers alike can enjoy," said Callum.

To date, Thankyou has given over $3 million to projects spanning 16 countries. Through the support of Australians purchasing their products, the social enterprise has funded safe water access for 170,177 people, hygiene and sanitation programs for 231,582 people and an estimated 19.1 million days' access to immediate food aid on top of long-term food solutions to people in need.

Thankyou's full gluten free offering also includes two muesli bars: Nut & Chia and Fruit & Nut.

The Gluten Free Muesli with Dates & Toasted Coconut retails at $6.99 for 400g and is available at select Woolworth's supermarkets.

For more information or high-resolution images, please contact:

Melissa Morris, PR & Communications Manager E: melissa.m@thankyou.co
M: 0401 182 281

Thankyou | W: thankyou.co | F: thankyogroup | I: thankyogroup
| T: thankyou_group | YT: thankyouwater